

Detoxify & Fight Aging For A Stunning Look

Nowadays, the mainstream concept of beauty fashion has been viewed as the combination of health and beauty into one. Toxin, on the other hand, is known as the biggest enemy of one's health and beauty. Hence, it is the goals of many trendy women to become beautiful through the use of various body detoxification methods!

Sagging Skin Is The Beginning Of Aging

The main reason for the occurrence of sagging skin is due to the dermal tissue loses elasticity. Collagen and elastic fibers exist in the dermis, as we grow old, these fibers will diminish while the pores get bigger, which leads to a loss in firmness and the formation of wrinkles.

Medical research has shown that the metabolism rate of the epidermal cell is most active from midnight until 2 am. Therefore, staying up late is one of the reasons that cause toxins accumulation and aging. Hence, staying up late would influence the cell regeneration rate. If you wish to retain youthful skin, then you need to adopt the habit of sleeping before 12 am every day.

Besides staying up late, external factors such as fatigue, smoking, UV rays, and environmental pollution would increase the amount of toxins in your body. This would also accelerate skin aging.
